EDITORIAL

All Saints Church (just off the A4 Bath Road to the west of town) was designed by the Victorian architect, George Edmund Street and opened in 1857 to serve rural Boyne Hill. The church complex is arguably the most important collection of listed buildings in Maidenhead. You will find a warm welcome from our modern heating system and recently restored floor! The worship needs of today are served by a variety of services each in a distinctive style. Our main service on Sundays at 10.00am, the Parish Eucharist, has a crèche and a lively group for young people of primary school age. Various faith growth courses are run on zoom and in person throughout the year which help you to explore the riches of the Christian faith.
