

The Parish
of
All Saints Boyne Hill
Recorded Roll of Honour
(All those who volunteered)
Month by Month
During WW1
1914 to 1918

Some Points to Note

- 1. This roll contains 910 names of men who were listed on the church's Roll of Honour. The list is in alphabetical order by surname for ease of reference. All of these men were from or had strong connections with this parish most were recorded month by month on the roll of honour in the church and in the parish magazine. (See extra names at the end of the list and note 7).
- 2. There may be some duplications it would be difficult to prove either way especially a hundred years on from those terrible events that affected almost every family in the country.
- 3. I have transcribed as carefully as possible all the entries from that period. It is worth noting that where a duplication seems apparent it could have been a father and son named the same as was so often the practice a century ago, less so today. There is also the possibility that soldiers home on leave were recorded again when returning to duty. Those marked with an asterisk I think are possibly duplicated bearing in mind comments above, or were entered again as a casualty.
- 4. The roll also contains a few names of men who volunteered but were unable to go forward for health and other reasons. Their names were recorded on the roll because the church considered they had also tried to do their duty for king and country. These men were not separately identified in the magazine.
- 5. In the column marked status some ranks are recorded when given plus the odd title or the fact that man had lost his life. Those on the list marked † are remembered on the war memorial boards. Some marked R.I.P. are not to be found on the memorial boards this could be due to confusion over name or initials being recorded differently as well as duplication issues. Or the possibility they were working as a civilian on war service and considered to have done their duty and included on the church roll. P.M. indicates the month the entry was made in the Parish Magazine.
- 6. I do not know what format the original roll was kept in at the west end of the church as it no longer exists but the names were added month by month as well as being published in the church parish magazine during those long years of the first world war. There were only two months when no entries were recorded these being the months of February and June 1918.

- 7. There are thirty nine extra names added at the end of the list included in the overall total, some names that appear on the war memorial boards were found not to be listed in the parish magazine. Again there may be some possible duplication because of the possibility that names given could have been as they were known to friends and family but not what official records subsequently revealed.
- 8. I have put this list together as part of our church records of the men who went to war. Also those who wish to research their family history at any time in the future can have access to this valuable piece of local history which might have been lost had it not been for the foresight of someone in the past to have the parish magazines bound in book form. Alas these books are now becoming very fragile but allow a glimpse of church and parish life a century ago and allowed me to put together this important record.

We should never forget the sacrifices all these men and their families made for the freedom we still very much enjoy today.

We Have Remembered Them.
