GOSPEL

Luke 16: 1 — 13

Jesus said to the disciples, "There was a rich man who had a manager, and charges were brought to him that this man was squandering his property. So he summoned him and said to him, "What is this that I hear about you? Give me an account of your management, because you cannot be my manager any longer." Then the manager said to himself, "What will I do, now that my master is taking the position away from me? I am not strong enough to dig, and I am ashamed to beg. I have decided what to do so that, when I am dismissed as manager, people may welcome me into their homes." So, summoning his master's debtors one by one, he asked the first, "How much do you owe my master?" He answered, "A hundred jugs of olive oil." He said to him, "Take your bill, sit down quickly, and make it fifty." Then he asked another, "And how much do you owe?" He replied, "A hundred containers of wheat." He said to him, "Take your bill and make it eighty." And his master commended the dishonest manager because he had acted shrewdly; for the children of this age are more shrewd in dealing with their own generation than are the children of light. And I tell you, make friends for yourselves by means of dishonest wealth so that when it is gone, they may welcome you into the eternal homes. Whoever is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much; and whoever is dishonest in a very little is dishonest also in much. If then you have not been faithful with the dishonest wealth, who will entrust to you the true riches? And if you have not been faithful with what belongs to another, who will give you what is your own? No slave can serve two masters; for a slave will either hate the one and love the other, or be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and wealth.'

Sermon

Fr Nicholas

Offertory Hymn

1. Christ is the one who calls, the blind can see, whom once he died to save.
the one who loved and came, the slave is free, He drew death's sting to whom by right it falls, the lost are found. and broke its chains, to bear the highest name : 3. Christ is the one who died who lives and reigns,
and still today forsaken and betrayed ; our risen King.
our hearts are stirred who, mocked and crucified, 5. Christ is the one who to hear his word the price of pardon paid. sends, and walk his way. Our dying Lord, his story to declare ;
what grief and loss, who calls his servants friends and gives them news to share.
2. Christ is the one who seeks, what bitter cross, His truth proclaim to whom our souls are known. in all the earth,
The word of love he speaks 4. Christ is the one who rose in glory from the grave, his matchless worth can wake a heart of stone ; to share his life with those and saving name.

Timothy Dudley-Smith (b. 1926)

Communion Hymn 178 Thy kingdom come! On bended knee

Closing Hymn

1. I, the Lord of sea and sky, They turn away.
I have heard my people cry. I will break their hearts of stone,
All who dwell in dark and sin give them hearts for love alone.
my hand will save. I will speak my word to them.
I who made the stars of night, Whom shall I send?
I will make their darkness bright.
Who will bear my light to them? Whom shall I send?
*Here I am, Lord. Is it I, Lord?
I have heard you calling in the night. I will go, Lord, if you lead me.
I will hold your people in my heart.*

2. I, the Lord of snow and rain,
I have borne my people's pain.
I have wept for love of them.
